Edwards on racing at The Milwaukee Mile:

"We had a very strong car last year in Milwaukee and we turned our season around with a win. This is our third split weekend and Colin Braun will be practicing our Save-A-Lot Ford. If Colin qualifies the car, we will start from the rear and forge our way to the front. We struggled in Kentucky, so I am determined to run well and hopefully celebrate in victory lane."

Crew chief Dan Stillman on racing at The Milwaukee Mile:

"Our Save-A-Lot team has struggled a little bit as of late, but I am confident we have a solid game plan that will help us right the ship. Our short-track program has been solid this year and I have a lot of confidence in our team's ability to overcome adversity. A win can make all of these struggles disappear."
